SECTION A: GENERAL INFORMATION ON THE SCHOLARSHIP

Solar energy is one of the subsectors under renewable energy project. The project is focusing on improving employment and economic opportunities for the youth through cooperation with the public and private sectors by supporting young Kenyans aged between 18 to 35 years to access job opportunities in the renewable energy sector. The project will promote demand-oriented skills and develop a renewable energy talent pool, thereby increasing the number of skilled technicians in the renewable energy subsector. This will be achieved through skills training, practical exposure through industrial attachment and matching trainees to jobs. The project will facilitate the linkage of trained young people to jobs through a partnership with the private sector where 50% of the 120 trained young people will be linked to employment opportunities through direct formal jobs.
